

Malouf Dental

CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19) LEVEL 3

To our patients and the community

WE ARE STILL OPEN FOR EMERGENCY TREATMENT

With a view to contain COVID-19 and to flatten the curve, the Australian Government along with the Australian Dental Association has placed certain restrictions on the type of work that can be carried out by dental clinics.

As responsible practitioners, Malouf Dental is committed to protect the welfare of its patients, staff and the community by avoiding all care that is not urgent in nature.

However we WILL be providing emergency treatments for patients who have a toothache or trauma; or a dental condition that is likely to impact your overall general health.

During this time, Malouf Dental can be contacted through telephone, email and social media. Since we will be operating with minimal staff, we appreciate your patience should we take longer than usual to attend to your calls, emails or messages.

We hope to return to normal operation soon, but are committed to doing our part in flattening the curve and protecting our staff, patients and the community. We are treating the situation very seriously and aim to keep everybody informed via social media updates during these unprecedented times.

Thank you for your understanding and patience during these challenging times and stay safe.

Kind regards,

Dr. James Malouf and the Malouf Dental team
